

MiNK Therapeutics Dr. Jennifer Buell to Deliver Featured Plenary at 10th Annual CAR-TCR Summit in Boston, MA

September 25, 2025

NEW YORK, Sept. 25, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- MiNK Therapeutics, Inc. (Nasdaq: INKT), a clinical-stage biopharmaceutical company pioneering invariant natural killer T (iNKT) cell therapies, today announced that its President and Chief Executive Officer, Dr. Jennifer Buell, will deliver a featured plenary address at the 10th Annual CAR-TCR Summit, taking place September 23–26, 2025, in Boston, MA.

The CAR-TCR Summit is one of the industry's most influential gatherings of academic, clinical, and biopharma leaders advancing the future of cell therapy across oncology, autoimmunity, and immune-mediated disease. Dr. Buell will present during a plenary session titled "Examining the Scope of Cell Therapy Beyond Oncology & Reviewing the Successes & Failures." In her remarks, Dr. Buell will share first-in-human data from MiNK's iNKT platform demonstrating durable disease reversal and steroid-free remission in severe immune collapse. She will also outline MiNK's translational strategy, highlighting how precision trial design, patient stratification, and tissue-specific targeting can accelerate development across high-burden, non-oncology indications.

"The CAR-TCR Summit is the definitive global meeting for engineered cell therapy, and I am honored to contribute to this milestone anniversary," said Dr. Buell. "MiNK is demonstrating that iNKT cells can restore immune balance in diseases where options are scarce — from autoimmunity to pulmonary failure. Our off-the-shelf approach is designed to be scalable, broadly accessible, and uniquely administered without the need for HLA matching or lymphodepletion, opening the door to truly transformative patient care."
